Kuehne + Nagel opens a new office to cater for expansion of the freight business

London / UK, 16 April 2018 – On 16 April, Kuehne + Nagel’s Leeds branch will move from its current site in Leeds to a state-of-the-art office space in the heart of Wakefield.

The property is situated approximately two miles from Wakefield city centre and 15 miles south of Leeds. The location provides easy access to all of Yorkshire, being adjacent to J39 of the M1 and close to the M62.

“When it came to relocating the branch we made sure to keep the two most important things in mind – our people and our customers. The new property meets the needs of both. The building is modern and spacious, which not only supports the fantastic growth we have already had, but also gives us the opportunity for further growth in the near future,” remarked Leeds Branch Manager, Donna Dallyn.

Our branch colleagues live in the surrounding area, which allows them to assist our customer base promptly. The team looks after an impressive range of local customers - from small independent companies right up to multinationals, helping them with their needs for any road, sea or air freight. The Wakefield office provides one point of contact for all sizes of account, which not only gives our customers consistency but helps in gaining a full understanding of each customer’s individual needs.
