

BIBBY DISTRIBUTION RELISHES MIZKAN CONTRACT RENEWAL

29 April 2016

Food manufacturer Mizkan Euro, which makes the iconic Branston Pickle, Hayward's Pickled Vegetables and Sarson's Vinegar, has renewed its warehousing and distribution contract with Bibby Distribution.

Under the contract, Bibby Distribution will store and transport approximately 12,000 pallets a month – equivalent to around two million jars of the manufacturer's famous pickles, vinegars and seasonings from its flagship Max Park facility in Corby to retailers and outlets across the country.

The 3PL's contract, originally won in 2013, was renewed on the basis of Bibby Distribution's performance over the past three years and a commitment to innovation and continuous improvement.

Bibby Distribution has successfully leveraged its network capacity to develop a shared user solution where products from multiple manufacturers are transported on the same load. This reduces the overall amount of product 'touches' during transport whilst maintaining reliable food safety.

Seb Jackson, Customer Logistics Manager at Mizkan Euro, says: "Bibby's flexibility and commitment to working collaboratively made the contract renewal an easy decision. Mizkan and Bibby are both family-owned businesses, each with more than 200 years' heritage. I'm confident that together we can find new solutions to surpass the expectations of our customers and support each other's growth whilst doing so."

Transport is predominately conducted on a day one for day three basis to ensure consistent stock flow. Bibby Distribution is also looking at ways in which transport can be further improved, with plans to introduce full electronic tracking and tracing of pallets to provide complete supply chain visibility.
