PRESS RELEASE

Conqueror the latest network to join ELITE

Conqueror Freight Network has joined the Elite Association of Logistic Networks (ELITE) after passing the qualifying criteria for membership.

Conqueror becomes the tenth network to belong to ELITE following its official launch in late 2012. Headquartered in Madrid, Spain, Conqueror's freight forwarder membership is spread across 164 cities and 81 countries worldwide. Antonio Torres, Managing Director of Conqueror, said: "Networks are crucial in assisting independent freight forwarders in their aim of finding reliable partners.

I firmly believe that ELITE provides freight forwarders with the clarity needed to make an informed choice about where they should align their businesses. Since our launch in 2010, Conqueror Freight Network has attracted many applicants, but only 10% have passed our rigorous selection process. We are delighted that our efforts as defenders of quality in the industry have been recognised and given this "seal of approval," and we are proud to come together with other like-minded networks to raise the standard of networks in the industry."

ELITE was formed to act as a voice for the SME freight forwarding community within major trade and industry associations, organisations and regulators. Additionally, thanks to strict membership criteria, ELITE provides forwarders with peace of mind and security that each of its networks operates only to the highest possible standards.
