Houston – October 15, 2013 – Crane Worldwide Logistics, a full-service air, ocean, trucking, customs brokerage and logistics company, recently moved into its newest office in Singapore in Asia Pacific’s first-ever CarbonNeutral® Development. This move continues Crane Worldwide’s global commitment to sustainability.

“We are very excited to move to our new Singapore office in the CarbonNeutral® Development,” John Magee, president and CEO of Crane Worldwide said. “We have been providing high touch, high service for our customers in Singapore since we opened in 2008. This office will allow us to not only continue to do that, but also make an impact on the sustainability in Singapore.”

The CarbonNeutral® Development is sustainable and features “Green” features designed for efficiency in energy and water, with an estimated savings of 620,000 kWh and 280³ respectively.

Crane Worldwide employs an initiative called “Crane Cares,” which focuses on three distinct pathways for helping others: Green Worldwide, Give Worldwide and Live Well Worldwide.

“The Singapore office continues to “challenge the norm” through the opening of this office. All of Crane Worldwide’s stations are encouraged to find their own way to make the world a better place and the Singapore team has done that through this office,” said Magee.

The office will continue to be led by Paul Westropp, Crane Worldwide’s managing director of Singapore and Malaysia. The new Singapore office is centrally located in eastern Singapore with ease of transportation and close proximity to the airport and cargo center.
