About HERMES Logistics

Hermes would like to congratulate Etihad Cargo on the successful cutover to the Hermes air cargo management system at their Abu Dhabi hub last week.

After nearly a year spent planning and staff training, the Hermes system is now responsible for the real time handling and process management for all of the cargo that passes through this facility every day.

Hermes Project Leader, Simon Elmore said, "The Hermes team developed specific functionality to meet Etihad Airways' local requirements and spent time on the ground in Abu Dhabi to work through a three-tiered implementation plan, that took place over several months, to ensure that the final handover went smoothly. The success of this implementation and our relationship with Etihad Airways reinforces the Hermes commitment to cargo handling excellence and best in class process design and system controls. It also affirms the vast capabilities of the Hermes system now handling the hub requirements of a large cargo operation like Etihad Cargo."

David Kerr, Vice President, Etihad Cargo, added, "The implementation of the new Hermes cargo management system is a very positive customer service enhancement that enables us to handle and transport our customer's shipments more efficiently."

The Hermes team will continue to work alongside Etihad to enhance the system and integrate more "best practice"
