FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New daily Asia-UK air freight service

London, 20th March 2012 - DSV Air & Sea Limited has launched a new daily air freight service from the Far East to the UK, giving its clients more choice and flexibility.

The service, called DSV Everyday, offers daily flights from Hong Kong and South China to the UK.

DSV Everyday offers three service levels, giving customers the flexibility to choose the most suitable option for them. The three service levels are Priority, Classic and Economy.

The Priority service offers a fixed transit time of two days from Hong Kong to the UK with Classic guaranteeing arrival in four days and Economy taking six days.

Transit time is measured from receipt of cargo at origin, to arrival UK airport. Under normal circumstances customs clearance is effected on the same day as arrival, with delivery the following day.

Richard Lawford, Director, Sales, DSV Air & Sea Limited, says: "The new service provides our clients peace of mind by guaranteeing transit times.

"By offering three service levels we're also increasing the amount of choice our clients have, so if they need something urgently, we can get it to them in time. If cost is the main concern, we can provide extremely competitive rates while still utilising airfreight."

DSV already runs a similar service from Hong Kong to locations in Europe but DSV Everyday has been launched to give increased reliability and flexibility to its clients in the UK.
