Agility to Handle SINGAPORE ART FAIR Logistics
Appointed Freight Forwarder, Onsite Logistics Handler for First-Ever Exhibition

SINGAPORE -- 24 Sept., 2014 – Agility Fairs & Events will move and install thousands of paintings, sculptures and other artworks as official freight forwarder and onsite logistics handler at the first-ever SINGAPORE ART FAIR, to be held Nov. 27-30 at the Suntec Singapore Convention & Exhibition Center.

The modern and contemporary art fair will showcase pieces from the Middle East, North Africa, South Asia and Southeast Asia, and will include works from 80 international galleries and 20 individual artists.

Agility was appointed by Orchilys Pte Ltd., organizer of the art fair. Agility Fairs & Events, which has a long record of providing specialized logistics for the fine arts and performing arts, will manage international freight and handling at the convention center. The company's logisticians will provide transportation, packing and unpacking, loading and unloading, and installation and removal of pieces on exhibition. The Agility team also will help exhibitors with insurance, customs clearance and documentation support.

"Paintings, sculptures and other valuable artworks require highly specialized care. We have built an extensive track record of handling logistics for fine arts and the broader arts community," said Priscilla Leong, COO of Agility Fairs & Events. "The SINGAPORE ART FAIR, like other major art shows, plays an important role in Singapore's plan to become the arts hub of Southeast Asia. We're honored that we were selected to play a key role in the maiden event."
