

Customer Information – Norwegian strikes in Oslo fjord

To our valued customers:

Vessel operations within the Oslo fjord are being impacted today as a result of various strike actions taken by certain public services departments in Norway.

Harbor Pilots enacted a strike this morning. The strike is ongoing at this point.

Additionally, ship-to-shore crane operators in Oslo have announced a plan to commence a strike on Friday 25 May 2012.

Team Lines currently has two vessel which are directly impacted by these strike actions:

M/V Elisabeth: standing by in Halden (operations complete); unable to depart due to pilot strike. Oslo is the next port on the Elisabeth's schedule (TBD).

M/V Hanni: alongside at Sjursøya Container Terminal in Oslo. Loading operations will be completed by 14:30 today. Departure from Oslo currently curtailed by the pilot strike. Gothenburg is the next port on the Hanni's schedule (TBD).

Please refer to the Team Lines website (<http://www.teamlines.de>) for regular updates on the situation in Norway.

With best regards
