

Today the Qantas Group has announced that in the new year Executive Manager Qantas Freight Lisa Brock will internally transfer to take up a new role as Chief Commercial Officer for the Jetstar Group.

Lisa has overseen three years of transformation in the Qantas Freight business. Highlights include:

- Integrating the Australian air Express business to position Qantas Freight as Australia's air freight market leader;
- Implementing the Emirates Cargo Cooperation Agreement;
- Roll out of a series of major technology improvements including a new core operating platform and self-service import delivery solution in Qantas Freight's Australian international terminals; and
- Successfully meeting IATA goals of eFreight and eAWB.

Qantas Freight's transformation journey will continue and the business already has in train a number of programs to deliver further service improvements.

A internal recruitment process is now underway within the Qantas Group to secure a replacement Executive Manager Qantas Freight, and I will update you in the new year once an appointment is finalised.