

NORBERT DENTRESSANGLE EXTENDS HONG KONG SERVICE TO UK

Following the successful launch of its service from Hong Kong to Paris, Norbert Dentressangle has extended the service, providing three consolidations per week into the UK.

With cargo space on flights from China and Hong Kong at a premium, especially in the weeks and months leading up to Christmas and Chinese New Year, Norbert Dentressangle has secured block space agreements with a number of airlines, providing UK importers with a reliable and highly cost-effective service for bringing in goods from China and Hong Kong.

Norbert Dentressangle offers three consolidations per week and a two-day transit time, providing a rapid and regular service from Hong Kong to Heathrow and Manchester. The company also offers a daily trucking service from Southern China to its consolidation facility in Hong Kong, along with onward transportation of consignments on arrival into the UK, offering UK importers a genuinely door-to-door service and a single point of contact, from origin to destination.

Norbert Dentressangle also offers a weekly LCL ocean freight service from Hong Kong to the UK.

Matt Young, Commercial Manager for the Air & Sea division of Norbert Dentressangle in the UK said: "Rates for services from Hong Kong can be extremely volatile, not only in the run up to Christmas and Chinese New Year but also around major consumer electronics product launches. Our space allocations on flights to the UK protects our customers from this volatility, giving them a guaranteed service at a guaranteed price throughout the year."
