

The Qantas Group is pleased to announce the internal appointment of Alison Webster to the role of Executive Manager Qantas Freight. This follows Lisa Brock's recent appointment as Chief Commercial Officer of the Jetstar Group.

Ms Webster has had a long career in aviation and was selected for the role through an extensive internal talent process. She has held a range of senior commercial, sales, marketing and operational roles at Qantas and British Airways.

Most recently as Executive Manager International Customer Experience, Ms Webster has made a significant contribution to the Qantas International passenger business.

Commencing her new role on 1 February 2014, Ms Webster is well placed to bring new leadership to the Qantas Freight business and support the team.
